Where Quality Defines Everything We Do.

Our company name categorically sums up our charter as a pharmacy automation leader... we're innovators. We do more than simply bring products to market; we apply our in-depth pharmacy and technological knowledge to bring you bona fide solutions.

We understand that pharmacy's challenges are far reaching. Our PharmASSIST product suite reflects this. From end-to-end workflow software and precision counting technologies to scalable robotic dispensing and high-volume solutions, we deliver a full breadth of pharmacy automation systems and services to help you address your myriad challenges and to achieve measurable results.

Scalable Solutions Protect Your Automation Investment

Scalability truly defines our PharmASSIST family of products. Each system is a building block to the next. You can start with the basics with any PharmASSIST product and easily “scale up” through a variety of ways... by adding workstations or peripherals, by augmenting counting technology, and so on. You can also “scale up” or migrate your existing PharmASSIST product to ROBOTx™, our next level of automation.

Our overriding goal is to protect your automation investment by providing you with a clear and affordable technology growth path. To achieve this, our PharmASSIST solutions comprise two main building blocks—universal workflow software and dispensing technology—that serve as the common platform for the entire suite. Thus, as your prescription volumes grow and your requirements evolve, you can leverage your existing automation and either upgrade or migrate with minimal operational disruption and complete compatibility with all your existing systems.

Strong Partnerships Help You Achieve Your Goals

As your pharmacy automation partner, we help you define a clear vision of where you’re going and how to get there.

We accomplish this by first gaining a thorough understanding of your distinct requirements. We then carefully evaluate your pharmacy operations, your fulfillment process, your existing technology, your formulary concentration, and your short- and long-term goals. With this solid foundation of knowledge, we develop a detailed technology plan, which includes automation recommendations for today and considerations for future growth.

At Innovation, our mission is to help your pharmacy enhance patient safety, increase operational efficiency, and set new benchmarks for quality, productivity, and customer satisfaction.
